The boom for the "old ticket" does not seem to prosper.

General Grant loans his art treasures that he collected in Europe and other parts of the world, to the Louisville exposition.

Criminals are still reaping the whirlwind. An Alabama murderer and ravisher has been taken from the jail by a mob and hanged.

The high license bill has been passed by the Illinois legislature and signed by the governor. Of course, the democrats voted against it.

George Bliss, who has been employed in the star route trial says there will be several more trials yet. The lawyers can go through many more such seiges as long as the government pays them $150 a day and expenses.

General Sherman is in for reform in lawyers talking to juries He says if a lawyer can't say what he has to say in one hour he ought to quit the business. The general is wiso in his conclusion.

It was reported that the husband of Frances Hodgson Burnett, the popular novelist, was a clerk in the departments at Washington. This is denied and the statement made that he is an oculist and enjoys a large and lucrative practice.

It is announced that a society has been organized in New York city the aim of which is to promote the welfare of the insane, urges that competent women physicians should be given the care of the female wards and that the use of narcotic drugs should be prohibited in the treatment of patients.

A report is going the round of the press that the members of the Women's Christain temperance union of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, have resolved to do away with the use of gloves until a prohibition amendment shall have been adopted, and to devote the money that would be thus used to the furtherance of the cause.

The Philadelphia Times is responsible for the following: "When Governor Foster, of Ohio, heard that Speaker Keifer had secured the appointment of a collector of internal revenue at Columbus, in what he considered his own bailiwick, he boarded the first train for Washington. Arriving there, he took a cab for the White house, represented the facts in the case to the president, had the Keifer appointment withdrawn and returned to Ohio by the next train. This is probably one of the neatest pieces of spoils business ever yet accomplished, and demonstrates that the Ohio man has not lost his cunning, as is sometimes feared in the country at large."

There have been a good many unfounded scandals circulated in regard to Mr. W. D. Bacon, of Waukesha, who was recently divorced from his wife, nee Mrs. Gibbs. The defendant in the case, Mr. Bacon, is well known throughout the state and is a gentleman of large means, and withal is a man of firm independence and stalwart integrity. The papers who were in too great haste to charge cruelty and scandal on the part of Mr. Bacon, are now doing him justice by simply publishing some of the facts in the case which completely exonerates him from all blame in the matter. Mrs. Bacon's original complaint never found its way into court. It was made up of such items as were not true and which, of course, she could not prove, and it was withdrawn, and an amended complaint substituted. "Cruel and inhuman treatment and marital infelicity were not to be found in the new complaint, but only the simple charge of failure to support coupled with a prayer for an absolute divorce and such financial relief as the court in its discretion thought proper to allow. Mr. Bacon, made no contest on this issue, and when the court opened and counsel could be heard, the case was submitted and the prayer of the petitioner was answered, a full decree of divorce was granted and relief allowed. Mr. Bacon did all that an honorable man could do both with generous support and kindness, to make his home a pleasant one for his wife, but she cared nothing for these. The party who enjoys the clearest conscience and the cleanest record in this matter is Mr. Bacon.

The queerest couple that ever gained prominence in Washington society, was Mrs. Mary Clemmer Ames, the well-known author and newspaper correspondent, and her husband, the Rev. Mr. Ames. They were married many years ago, and shortly afterward Mrs. Ames began writing for the press, then editing various works, and at last becoming a writer of books. During this time there was not much affection between the husband and wife, although each had deep respect for the other. When Mrs. Ames became famous and rich, her husband grew somewhat melancholy. He was a tall, polite gentleman, not bright, but rather stupid, good natured, but he learned that his wife was far above him, and was then willing she should have a divorce if she desired it. She was a vivacious, quick-witted, cheerful woman, and loved society, and found that in this matter their interests were not in common. They agreed upon a divorce, and it was quietly obtained, he living at Harper's Ferry and she in Washington. After the divorce, they often met and talked kindly to each other, and he hardly made a move in business without consulting his divorced wife. When he was debating in his mind whether to remarry ten years ago, he went to Washington to consult his former wife about it and it was through her wise counsel and kind words that he married his second wife. Mrs. Clemmer, for she took her maiden name after her divorce, will be married next Tuesday to Mr. Edmund Hudson, a Washington editor, and correspondent of the Boston Herald. He is 38 and Mrs. Clemmer is 53.

There is a sort of sickly sentimentality being powed out in some quarters for the bloody-handed wretch Dukes, who has been recently sent to his grave by young Nutt, whose sister he dishonored, and whose father he killed. It is all well enough to talk about permitting law to take its course, but there are getting to be too many instances in this country in which law is nothing but a sham, and in which justice is utterly and shamefully neglected. It will be noticed that nineteen times in twenty mob violence and the reaping of vengeance by assassination, only take place when law and evidence are disregarded by juries, and when justice is mocked, and high-handed criminals are allowed to go unpunished.

The sentiment of the public is generally not far from being right. It is not factious, and it does not demand any unreasonable thing. The moral sense of society was outrageously shocked when the jury acquitted Dukes for deliberately and without the least provocation, murdered Captain Nutt. That moral sense of society now stands by the young son and brother in his killing of Dukes. A few say that society is wrong in its position, and that it is encouraging lawlessness, and is breaking the law which is the protection of good society. Public sentiment demands justice, and nothing more than simple justice. The sentiment of the people is seldom, if ever, warped, and is not frequently in error. If it applauds the deed that young Nutt has done out of the loving kindness he bore for his father and his sister, it is because the moral sense of society was shamefully outraged by the acquittal of Dukes.

The only way to put a stop to these frequent assassinations, and hangings by mobs, is to execute justice in the courts. One has said, "it is very well to preach the duty of respect for the forms of law; but before the preachment will avail anything, those whose office it is to administer law must make its forms respectable by giving society better assurance that the ends of justice will be reached by their observance. At present such is not the case; that is, it is very frequently not the case. The so-called administration of justice in this country is almost as often a farcical administration of injustice as it is of the opposite. What wonder, then, that justice is frequently executed by "Judge Lynch," or, still more summarily, by the irregular mode of its execution upon the creature Dukes at Uniontown? And, seeing that its authorized agents can not be depended on to fulfill its trust, what wonder that the moral sense of society approves of these executions of justice without the forms of law? It is an evil, no doubt, but it is the perfectly natural and certain offspring of the greater evil which makes the forms of law the surest safeguard of the greatest criminals."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Cruise of the Canal Club—Grandmother Elsie.

THE CRUISE OF THE CANAL CLUB. By W. L. Alden, author of "The Moral Pirates," etc. New York: Harper & Bros. $1.00.

This little work is a fitting companion to "The Moral Pirates," by the same author, and published last year. It is a charming book for the young, and even those who are not young will find a good deal of interest in reading it. It is nicely printed, and finely illustrated.

For Sale by Jansen, McClurg & Co., Chicago, and by the Janesville local trade.

GRANDMOTHER ELSIE. By Martha Finley. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co. $1.25.

Those who have read "Else Densmore," "Elsie's Girlhood," and "Elsie's Widowhood," will be much interested in reading Mrs. Finley's sequel to the latter work—Grandmother Elsie, which the last of the series. They have had a large sale and a wide and an attentive reading. There is a high moral tone about them that is refreshing and instructive. Those who have read the previous volumes on Elsie, should by all means buy the last of the series.

For sale by Jansen, McClurg & Co., Chicago, and by the Janesville local trade.

William D. Kelley.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Gen. Bingham, of Philadelphia, interviewed here concerning William D. Kelley, said:

"He has improved very much indeed. He had a cancer in the face. They made a cut from his ear to his mouth, laid his cheek open and cut out that much foreign matter." The general here made a figure with his hands as big as a pear.

"Kelley is not very well off financially, I believe?"

"He is not a good manager of his own estate. However, he is out of debt. His friends came up recently and cleared his slate off, and they have before given him help, regarding him as a man who has rather sacrificed his personal fortune for interests of a common character. Long attention to legislation and the preparing of bills has made him somewhat impatient and indifferent to his private business."

A St. Louis Legal Luminary's Transactions.

The Mystery of Ex-Judge Krum's Conduct Explained.

Defaulter in Possibly $200,000---Other Crimes---A Black Record for One Day.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—Six weeks ago the announcement was made that Chester H. Krum, the leading barrister of this city, had disappeared. He was known as a man of great ability and integrity, had made his mark long ago when prosecuting the whisky ringsters, and was thought to be in the very best of circumstances. His father gave out that he had gone to New York to seek medical aid for a disease which had troubled him since his youth, and this story was accepted until the New York physician who was alleged to be attending him denied that he had such a patient. Then came a rumor that he had left here in a demented condition, the result of too much poker playing, and had in all likelihood committed suicide. Next came news from the far west to the effect that he had been seen on a Union Pacific train near Ogden. This report seems to be the correct one, for Clarence Newcomb, the gentleman who saw him, arrived here to-day, and says that he saw Krum in San Francisco, talked with and found that he was traveling under the alias James Reilly, having plenty of money with him and evidently enjoying the trip. As soon as it was learned that he was alive and acting in this way the judge's creditors became alarmed and an investigation followed, which ended in John L. Chandler appearing in the probate court yesterday afternoon in behalf of Mrs. Mary A. Manling and making a motion for an order of the court revoking the authority of Chester H. Krum, administrator of the estate of the late Charles W. Ford, for the failure to make settlement on the citation which recently issued. Chandler stated that Mrs. Ford had yesterday morning repaired to the office of ex-Judge John M. Krum and asked him to open a box containing papers of the Ford estate, in order to satisfy her mind as to whether the property detailed in the settlement was all safe. Judge Krum declined to open the box, and hence the request for an order revoking the authority of his son. In making this claim Mr. Chandler went on to say that the settlements filed by the absent man were false and fraudulent on the face. This statement created a great sensation in court. The father of the missing man was there, and those present, many of whom had known and respected his son, looked to him for a reply to Lawyer Chandler's broad statement, but the usually belligerent old man hung his head as if in shame and knowing that the first speaker told the truth. Mr. Chandler then proceeded, stating that Judge Krum was a defaulter to the extent of $50,000; at least that deficiency was already in sight, and he might be a defaulter to twice that amount as the Ford estate involved property valued at $200,000. It further transpired that in February Krum executed a chattel mortgage for $2,000 upon his law library, which was valued at $7,000, and that the mortgagee discovered yesterday that the books, with a few insignificant exceptions, had been removed. The father claimed that the library was a partnership property, he being half owner, but the mortgagee showed an affidavit from the son to the effect that he was sole owner. All of these facts coming to light as they do cause a great deal of sensation here, both in legal and mercantile circles, in both of which Judge Krum was well and favorably known. As there was no argument made against that of Mr. Chandler, Judge Krum's authority as administrator of the Ford estate was revoked.

THE DAILY MOD.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., June 16.—The citizens of this village who were disposed to let the courts handle the case of the prisoner, Till Warner, who was in custody for ravishing and attempting to murder the little girl Nettie Lyons, were surprised yesterday morning to learn that during the night he had been taken from jail and hanged. A meeting was held at the town hall, and statements were made by different persons giving their individual opinion of the guilt of the prisoner. The citizens dispersed, but the general impression was that something extraordinary would be done before morning. A crowd of men and boys, women and girls, and little children gathered at the jail, numbering about six hundred, and waited patiently for the lynchers. The twelve men who agreed to do the deed met at the depot at 1 o'clock in the morning, and proceeded to the jail and rapped on the office door. It was opened by the sheriff. Instantly two men seized him and took the keys away from him and went to the cell. The twelve men were masked, and secured the prisoner without any resistance on the part of the officers. When the hall door was opened the prisoner said: "Gentlemen, you need not come in; I will come out." He was soon ready, and appeared before the crowd. It was about five minutes from the time the twelve went to the jail until the man was in the hands of the mob. There was no injury done the jail. When outside, the wretch tried hard to get away. He was taken toward the woods, but when crossing the railroad west of the jail the lynchers saw the signboard and stopped there, and the rope was put around his neck. When asked if he had anything to say, he replied: "I am an innocent man." He was hauled up and held for a few seconds, and then let down. After yawning a minute, he remarked: "Wait a moment; this seems like a dream. I am innocent of this crime." He was asked if he had anything more to say, or, he wanted to pray, to which he replied in the negative. He was then hauled up and left. At half past 3 he was cut down and put into a rough box and left there until 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He was then taken to the jail, and at 1 o'clock an inquest was held. The coroner's verdict was to the effect that he came to his death at the hands of unknown persons. The prisoner was cool and candid all the time, and met his death with remarkable courage. His home was in Alpena, Mich., where he had brothers and sisters. Ive Littlefield, the man who arrested the wretch and brought him in, says he believes the man to be innocent of this crime. It is the opinion of the better class of citizens here that the lynching was uncalled for. No fear was entertained of the man getting away. The action of the sheriff, who knew that there was danger of the man being lynched, in not exercising the power he had to protect him, is regarded by the best men as indefensible.

SELMA, Ala., June 16.—A special from Wetumpha states that Jordon Corbin, who murdered Benjamin Carden and seriously wounded his wife and son, for the purpose of raping Carden's daughter, near Coosacoo Monday night, was captured by the citizens and put in jail Wednesday. That night he was taken from the jail by a crowd of 500 and hung. The crimes were the most deliberate, horrible and exasperating conceivable. Corbin staying around the house an hour. It was barricaded by the wounded wife with the bed on which lay the dead husband, shot in the head, while asleep by a gun pushed through the window. The daughter escaped to the woods in the night, and has since been found almost dead from fright, and is not expected to live. The mother and son are very seriously injured, but will recover.

AN EXCEPTIONAL CASE.

COLUMBUS, O., June 16.—There was a double execution at Conwayboro, the county seat of Henry county, in the lower part of this state, yesterday. Solomon Hewitt and Willie Hardee, both colored, were hanged for the murder of Jeremiah Stalvey, a white man about 67 years of age. There was a large crowd of colored people in the village, who had been gathering from early in the morning, as well as a good representation of the whites, but the execution was in private, as provided by law, save the few who are permitted to be present as witnesses to the proper carrying out of the dread sentence of the court. The drop fell at 11:45. They hung for about twenty minutes, when their bodies were cut down and buried at the public expense, as no kindred claimed the remains.

Hardee was a fine-looking mulatto, with the neat appearance and polite address of a first-class hotel waiter or city barber, while Hewitt was a thick-lipped, low-browed, repulsive-looking man. Their crime was the murder of an old merchant of Socastee, Henry county, on October 27, 1882. The object of the murder was robbery, and the crime a most atrocious one.

A KANSAS CITY TRAGEDY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 16.—Another bloody and atrocious tragedy was enacted here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The sporting-house kept by Kate James, on third street, was the scene of the tragedy. The house has three parlors opening into each other. At the hour mentioned one of the inmates of the house, a large, fine-looking blonde, known as Kate Thorne, and a man who had called on her every afternoon this week were in the front parlor. The other women, seven in number, including the mistress of the house, were in the other parlors. Suddenly a pistol-shot was heard, and the woman Thorne burst open the doors leading into the next parlor, crying: "My God! my husband has killed me." Four other shots were fired in rapid succession, and the woman fell in the back parlor, pierced in the heart and head by five 42-caliber bullets. The wounded woman died almost instantly. The other woman fled out the back way, jumping down a high porch or portico, pursued by the infuriated assassin, who sent several bullets at their flying figures. The assassin then coolly went out into the street in front of the house and reloaded his revolver, daring anyone to touch him. A woman attempted to emerge from the front door, when he fired a shot at her and again entered the house. By this time a large crowd had surrounded the house, and the murderer was arrested by Officer Larry Ghint, after firing two shots at the officer in attempting to escape. The murderer gave his name as George Rayser, and said he was from Leavenworth, Kan. He is an iron molder by trade, and has been working here only a short time. He is a man about 34 years of age and has parents living in Leavenworth. He was the divorced husband of the dead woman, Kate Thorne, although they have been separated for a year, and he knew she was living a life of prostitution. Five bullets were found to have entered the woman's body, two entering the back of the head and three entering her back, coming out through her breast. Her maiden name was Annie Anderson. She was 18 years of age and has parents living in Leavenworth. Rayser claims to have been under the influence of liquor when he did the shooting.

SENTENCED TO HANG.

FREMONT, O., June 16.—John Radford, the Belleville wife-murderer, was yesterday afternoon sentenced to be hanged on Friday, Oct. 12. Before sentence was pronounced Radford made a ten-minutes' speech. He closed by saying: "I'd rather die to-morrow than go to the penitentiary; but I'm not guilty of murder in the first degree."

John Radford, who was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife at Bellevue on Nov. 24, 1882, is the fourth murderer who, since the formation of the county, has received the death sentence. Of these but one was hanged, and that nearly forty years ago. One committed suicide, and the other, through the intervention of the governor, was sent to the penitentiary for life.

RASCAL ARRESTED.

MONTREAL, June 16.—A sensation was created here yesterday on Dominion Detective Fahey arresting William Campbell Phelan at the instance of Detective McIlwraith, of Boston, on a warrant of the chief justice of the queen's bench, for extradition to the United States on demand of the president. There are two charges of knowingly uttering counterfeit bills on the National Bank of Commerce, of Philadelphia, for $100, and on the Central National bank, of New York, for $50. Indictments were found against the prisoner in the circuit court of Boston for these offenses and true bills found, when the accused was admitted to bail. Instead of meeting these charges, he left his bondsmen in the lurch, and absconded to this city, where his trouble with a commercial agent named White, whom he accused of stealing what are said to be bogus bonds of the Mayflower Mining company in Utah, made his whereabouts known.

In Flagrante Delictu.

RIVER FALLS, Wis., June 15.—Dr. J. F. Johnson is a physician who enjoys a large practice. Mrs. Johnson, it is alleged, became intimate with a good-looking young clerk named Ole Anderson. The other evening Dr. Johnson gave his wife to understand that he would be away from home over night, but instead of leaving town he kept watch, and at midnight, armed with his revolver, crept to the window of his home and saw enough, he says, to justify him in shooting Anderson on the spot. This he would certainly have done had not his pistol refused to act after the first shot, which missed the mark. Opening the window, the doctor sprang into the room, and, using the pistol for a weapon, clubbed Anderson over the head, knocking him down, and, as he believed, breaking his jaw. Anderson fled barefooted, minus coat, hat, and vest, to the store, where he replenished his wardrobe and left for the country. The next morning Mrs. Johnson attempted to get a warrant against the doctor for assault, but her case was not clear enough to satisfy the justice, and it was not granted. It is probable that the case will end with a divorce suit at the term of court which commences next week at Ellsworth.

Mangled Workmen.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—A roof, 75x30 feet, which was being raised at J. S. Haven's machine shop, fell, burying a number of men. J. Oswald and Fred Andrews had their backs broken and were otherwise injured, so that they will die, and J. Scherman and H. Bramley sustained broken legs and injuries to their backs that may prove fatal. There were several others more or less injured. The accident was caused by the giving way of one of the jack-screws.

Vanderbilt's Team Does the Mile in 2:15 1-2---General Turf News--- The Ball Players.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Mr. William H. Vanderbilt, yesterday drove Maud S. and Aldine over the track of the Gentlemen's driving park in 2:15½, lowering the record of 2:16¾ made by Frank Work's team, Edward and Swiveller, July 13, 1882. Frank Work's team, driven by a professional driver, succeeded in covering a mile in 2:16¾, and a few days later the friends of Mr. Work caused a sign to be put up on the judge's stand at the track with the words on it: "July 13, 1882; Edward and Swiveller, 2:16¾." This sign was the eyesore to Mr. Vanderbilt, who could not bear to think that any man should own a faster team of horses than he. Vanderbilt, finally determined to hitch Maud S. and Aldine to the pole and break the record. The attempt was made yesterday, Mr. Vanderbilt as he got into the wagon previous to the start said: "This wagon and pole weigh 211 pounds; I weigh 200; that's 411 pounds, about 80 pounds more than Edward and Swiveller pulled around the track."

The quarter mile was passed in 32¾ seconds, and the half mile pole in 1 minute 5½ seconds. The time for the second quarter was exactly the same as the first. The three-quarters was made in 1 minute and 41 seconds, having taken 35 seconds for the third quarter, and the half mile from the quarter to the three-quarter mile in 1:08¾. Nearing the wire, Mr. Vanderbilt caught the lines in his left hand and swished his long whip through the air, never, however, striking the team. As they reached under the wire a wild shout went up and a cry of "2:15" announced to Mr. Vanderbilt his signal triumph over Frank Work. Of the twenty watches on the trial thirteen were stopped at 2:15½, four at 2:15¾ and three at 2:15¾, and it was decided that the majority should rule, and the time was announced as 2:15¾. This made the last quarter 34½ seconds, and the last half-mile was done in just 1:10.

OAR AND SCULL.

JACKSON, Mich., June 16.—The first race was for four-oared shells. Only the Goguacs of Battle Creek, appeared, the Hillsdales having wrecked their boat while loading it on a freight car. The course was one mile up and turn. The Goguacs' time was ten minutes and fifty-six seconds. In the single shell race Frank E. Ten Eyck, brother of James Ten Eyck, the champion, got four lengths ahead, when he was seized with cramps, and gave up. The race was won by Andrus, of Battle Creek. Time; twelve minutes and eighteen seconds. Plass, of Detroit, was second.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Princeton yesterday in the four-oared shell race for the Childs cup; time, nine minutes and thirty-one seconds.

HIGH LICENSE THE LAW.

Passage by the Illinois Senate of the Harper High License Bill--The Governor Signs it.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 16.—The senate got through the following business yesterday: Ogan's road bill, indefinitely postponed; cabstract bill read third time and failed to pass; railway extension bill passed; Harper high license bill passed and sent to governor; resolution fixing 18th inst. for adjournjournment, passed; besides which a number of house bills were ordered to third reading.

In the house, the general appropriation bill failed to pass which caused a great deal of confusion; a motion was made to reconsider; the Chester penetentiary appropriation for deficiency $30,000, was passed; Shawneetown relief bill defeated. Appropriation for Jacksonville blind institution passed, also appropriations for the following: The Elgin insane asylum; the Chester penitentiary, and the Illinois and Michigan canal.

A message was received from the governor announcing his approval of the high-license bill just passed by the senate. It was received by some of the members with deafening applause.

The general appropriation bill was again put on its passage. The vote stood yeas 93 to nays 19, and the bill was passed.

Appropriation bills for the normal university, state board of agriculture and state board of horticulture were passed. Appropriation of $800,000 for state officers' salaries was passed. The question of recording the testimony with reference to irregularity in the Harper bill was brought up, but the speaker decided it out of order. Bill for support of soldiers' orphans' home at Lincoln passed.

The July Dividends.

NEW YORK, June 16.—A prominent financier says: "I understand that about $100,000,000, is to be let out on the 1st of July in dividends. The 1st of January and the 1st of July are the dividend paying periods, and I have no doubt that this bull market is in anticipation of those dividends. The stocks are sold with or without the usual July dividend, and at present it is known the dividend will be paid, and, of course, there is a corresponding jump to get the coupon."

The gentleman added: "I estimate that $1,000,0000,000 is now required to pay the dividends of all sorts in the United States, starting with governments and coming down to savings banks. That money must invariably freshen up the market twice a year. This is a bull country. The natural income is so prodigious that under no circumstances can there fail to be at least two rises in value every year. Who would have thought that stocks would boom again, or the weather become like spring? Yet we still live. James Keene has been making a few hundred thousand dollars. Gould is not going around the world as much as he was."

Griggs' Glycerine Salve.

The best on earth can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve, which is sure cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds, and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and skin eruptions. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25 cents. For sale by Sterns & Baker.

The poor-directors of Erie, Pa., recently adopted the suggestion of a blundering grand jury that the almshouse be rearranged so that married couples who were inmates might occupy the same quarters; but the work was abandoned when it was discovered that about one hundred of the paupers had arranged to "pair off" in order to secure the additional comforts to be accorded to married people.

A plan is said to have been agreed upon to test the sentiment of the voters o Milwaukee upon the policy adopted by Mayor Stowell on the saloon question. The mayor, according to the alleged agreement, is to revoke the license of some saloon-keeper for violation of the midnight-closing order; the common council will grant the saloon-keeper a new license, and the mayor will resign, offering himself as a candidate for re-election. Should he be re-elected, the opposition members of the council will be called upon to resign.

Dorsey to Take the Offensive.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—It is reported that ex-Senator Dorsey contemplates plunging once more into litigation, this time taking the offensive. It is said that he has a carefully prepared scrap book from various leading newspapers in the country and will sue them for damages on account of unwarranted and libelous attacks, in the course of which he has been liberally characterized as a thief and a ringster, a conspirator and robber while the indictment against him was pending. It is presumed that the New York Times, Herald and Sun and the Washington Star will be moved upon first.

Gov. Butler to New Orleans Soldiers.

BOSTON, Mass., June 16.—Governor Butler made a speech at the banquet given the Continental guards of New Orleans. He said he had once entered New Orleans as an enemy, but had left it as a friend. He had told them at parting that the bane of their prosperity was slavery, and they had since learned the truth of his words. "We have common glories to gain hereafter," said he. "It may be against enemies which once wore the uniforms you wear (indicating the red-coated lancers). Certainly it will be if any provocation is given." The speech was heartily applauded.

Provision Exports.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The value of the exports of provisions, tallow, and dairy products for May is $6,265,415; for the five months ended May 31, $43,338,604; provisions and tallow for the seven months ended May 31, $58,094,075; value of the exports of the same products for the corresponding periods last year, $378,250 in excess of the above figures.

A SALTY LETTER.

S. W. Dorsey Indulges in Some Reflections on the Republican National Committee.

The Ex-Senator Serenaded by Colored Republicans---Makes a Speech.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Ex-Senator Dorsey has written the following letter to the newly-elected secretary of the Republican national committee:

GEN. JOHN A. MARTIN, Atchison, Kan.—DEAR SIR: At a time when I was confined in a dark room, not able to see the walls that surrounded me, I received a letter from you which I answered by dictation, as I have been obliged to do for many months. I supposed my answer was sent you, but it turns out the stenographic notes were never transcribed. I regret this for the reason that I would not wish to feel guilty of discourtesy to a man who has always been just to me. When I was appointed secretary of the Republican national committee at the request of Gen. Garfield, and accepted the place at the earnest solicitation of Gen. Arthur, representing the Grant side of the house, and the Hon. William E. Chandler, representing the Blaine side, I made the same request of Gov. McCormick, who was my predecessor, that you have made of me. I had at that time a fanciful notion that a record had been kept of the Republican party that showed its life and purpose, and that would leave a permanent history of its honorable existence, and what had transpired in 1856, 1860, 1864, 1868, and 1872, and that that record belonged to the Republican national committee, and that the secretary was the proper custodian of it. The answer I received of Gov. McCormick was that no record had been kept; that a bonfire of forgetfulness was built to eat up what we had a right to assume to be the evidence of honesty at the end of each campaign. By the great mass of people of intelligence of the north it is believed now, and will be believed for all time, that there is not a scrap, a word, a dot, or a line in any record that will show a wrongful act on the part of any person charged with the duty of representing the Republican party during a national campaign. Mr. Chandler was unquestionably the ablest man who served as executive officer of the Republican national committee, being one of the first, if not the very first, who was recognized as the real head of the Republican party in the sphere assigned him. It was therefore only proper that those who followed him should be governed by the precedents laid down. Mr. Chandler gave Gov. McCormick no records. Gov. McCormick, in response to a letter similar to the one you have written me, told me he had no records to give. They were my predecessors and you are my successor. I have nothing more to give to you than they had to give to me. I have a great mass of papers relating to the last campaign. They are chiefly made up of letters addressed to me and letters written by me to others in which no one could have the slightest interest except to obtain curious information. When I accepted the secretaryship I made it a condition that not a penny of the money subscribed for political purposes should come into my hands, and there never was a dollar of the subscribed funds received by me or paid out by me personally.

Money was used under my direction, but all my personal expenses and the expenses of the clerks serving with me were paid from my own pocket, amounting to something over $13,000. I say this much lest you may think I have records showing the receipts and expenditures in 1880. The only records of that kind I have are the paid checks of my own contribution and the unfortunate bank-book showing the charges of my own folly.

I regret more than I can tell that I made it possible that such records should be in my hand, but they are here, and I think it best to keep them as a reminder of the splendid gratitude of dishonest power. I do not owe the Republican national committee a cent of money or a grain of thankfulness. In the midst of a storm, brought about by the efforts I had put forth under its directions and in its behalf, a brutal assault was made upon me at the last meeting of the committee, when I was not present to defend myself. Not one among the forty members present had the courage or manhood to resent the miserable cowardice of an ambitious hypocrite. But never mind that: the balance-sheets of justice will some time be written by the hand of honor.

So far as you are personally concerned, if there is any paper in my possession, or any suggestion I can make that you think will be useful to you, I will be gratified to respond to your call. Yours sincerely,

STEPHEN W. DORSEY.

SERENADED BY COLORED REPUBLICANS.

Dorsey was serenaded late this evening at his residence by the colored Republican club of this city. He made a brief speech in acknowledgment of the courtesy, in which he said: "I thank you for the kindness you have shown in calling here this evening. I thank you not only for myself, but for all the defendants. I thank you not only for all the defendants and their families, I thank you for the courage you have shown in the presence of all the dishonor that the government has tried to put upon me in plastering the graves of mothers and the cradle of babies with the infamy of unjust power. You are brave enough, you are strong enough, to raise up your voices and your right hands against this attempted injustice. I thank you for the courage you have shown. I thank you for the pluck men like you can show, looking in the face of power. But over and above all that, this verdict has told a story in whose presence humanity will bow down. Possibly not this year or next, but the time will come when it will be pointed to as Macaulay pointed to the trial of Warren Hastings. The trembling wire's intelligence that bore the message of acquittal to Berlin, Moscow, and Dublin told the poor, lowly, and hopeless there were yet twelve men who could be found that would deal justly by them; that there was not a government large enough, there was not a public treasury fruitful enough, there were not leads of gold thick enough, and there was not executive power great enough, to seduce the judgment of twelve honest men. I don't care about myself. It is a matter of little consequence who is convicted or who is not. It is a matter of great consequence whether there is any treasury full enough to bow down a citizen however humble. This trial and this verdict have placed upon the books of justice a splendid record of the manhood of men. A jury made up by Democrats and Republicans, colored men and white men, Protestants, Catholics and atheists, all agreed that the men charged were not guilty. So it turns out that in the District of Columbia, where the cloud of power casts its shadow over every individual, twelve men could be found who would not bend the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift might follow fawning.' A halo of glory and truth will hang about them as long as they live, and it will decorate every thatched cottage that has been built or will be built in the next thousand years. Good-by, and I thank you."

Bond Exchanges.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The secretary of the treasury gives notice that exchanges of continued 3½ per cent. bonds into 3 per cents. will not be made during July next, the books of these two loans being then closed for the preparation of the Aug. 1 dividend. The continued bonds received for exchange during July will be exchanged upon the reopening of the books Aug. 1, interest at 3½ per cent remaining to that date.

When you suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn, malarial affections, kidney disease, liver complaint and other wasting diseases. When you wish to enrich the blood and purify the system generally. When you wish to remove all feeling of weakness, weariness, lack of energy, try a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters and see how greatly it will benefit you. It surpasses all known remedies as an enricher of the blood and a perfect regulator of the various bodily functions. Ask your druggist.

Mr. John Armsbrach, HOWARD GROVE, Wis., "Brown's Iron Bitters has entirely cured me of neuralgia."

Mr. H. A. Bessenger, BATAVIA, Wis., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of rheumatism that nothing else would relieve."

You will never make any mistake, if you use N. K. Brown's Ess. Jamaica Ginger for cholic."—(Sun.)

Chronic Diseases.

A Special Study for Years.

Dr. F. B. BREWER,

Has made Chronic Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

A special treatment for years. He is not a bonaful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years' of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call, investigate and decide for themselves. It will cost nothing to do so. Address all letters to

THE APRIL FOOL.

'Twas in the spring of '72
First met Bessie—charming girl—
Who caught me with her eyes of blue
And hair of mellow golden hue
That wandered into many a curl.
One night I asked her for my wife
While comin' home from singin' school—
Protesting else my future life
Would be a blank and dreary waste,
From which all sunlight were erased.
"Yes," answered then the pretty miss—
I stole a further, burning kiss,
And called her, in a burst of bliss,
My precious little April Fool.

'Tis now the spring of '83.
And we are married—Bet and I.
I will confess, twixt you and me,
She is not what she used to be—
My angel of the years gone by;
And when I think of that sweet time
I took her home from singin' school,
I feel like weaving into rhyme
This bitter, weary, sad reflection,
Resulting from profound dejection:
When I went courting that fair Miss
And begged her grant me wedded bliss
And sealed her answer with a kiss,
'Twas I who was the April Fool!

FAMILY FINANCES.

There is no other thing in the experience of woman that is made so humiliating to her self-respect, and withal so exasperating to her temper, as her dependence on man for support. And this is the man's own fault, and in it is to be found the primary cause of much of the discontent and bitterness that mar the loveliness of woman's character and drive her too often to stifle her natural and more congenial tastes for domestic life in her determination to be rid of this grinding sense of obligation under which she has rested ever since her earliest girlhood. And we find the young woman, having said "No" to the man she really loves and could make happy, pursuing her way in her profession or trade alone, because she believes that as soon as the weight of her support falls on his shoulders, he will repent him of his folly and wish himself free from burden. Or as in the case of some married women, who, finding the grudging spirit with which the money for their reasonable expenses is doled out to them intolerable, neglect their families and homes or turn them over to the care of hired help, while they engage in some kind of business outside that will at least enable them to pay their own way. Then aside from these two classes we have mentioned, which are acknowledged to be small in proportion to the masses (but they are as a rule noble natures) there are the thousands on thousands who bear the indignity of their positions so bravely that none ever know they suffer. But they do, and that most keenly; and sooner or later the sense of this injustice to which they are subjected will tell on their tempers or their spirits, and they will become impatient and fretful or gloomy and discouraged.

Now there is no good reason in the world why this state of affairs should exist. Man and woman were made for each other, and they are necessary to and dependent on each other, if the highest interests of society and posterity are to be considered.

The husband, as a rule, earns the money for the support of the family, and it is right and only right that he should, save in the very exceptional cases where the wife's strength and taste and freedom from the responsibilities of motherhood make it desirable for her to engage in business. But the fact that he alone earns money from the outside world makes it about as reasonable for him to share that money grudgingly with the wife, or bestow it on her as a gift for which she should feel an overwhelming gratitude, as it would be for the mother to deal in the same spirit with her own child, because it has not earned wages during the day it should be shown at supper that it is not deserving of the meal; when its apron is worn out she should provide it with a new one, and a long lecture on its extravagance and her boundless generosity in thus providing for its wants.

The idea is really so preposterous that it would seem useless to consider such a subject for a moment, were it not for the knowledge we have that nine out of every ten men of families make this same mistake, if we would speak charitably, or to call the thing by its right name, treat their families thus outrageously.

We are well aware that it is impossible for the majority of men to provide luxurious living for those dependent on them; neither do we consider this in any sense necessary to the happiness of the family. But as a rule the wife can bring more comfort into the house with five dollars that she may have to spend, than can the husband with twice that amount. And this is not wonderful, nor is she entitled any special credit for it, more than he is for earning the five dollars for her. It is part of her duty for which nature has especially fitted her. And if she failed in it, it is either because she doesn't try, or because the selfishness of her husband has denied her the means of developing this talent. For this reason, then, we believe that where the income is limited, the wife is the best disburser of the family funds. And if she is worthy to be the wife of an honest man, she will do her level best to make that money bring as much comfort into the house as possible, and in no case will she allow her feminine love for the beautiful beguile her into extravagance. But we must not expect miracles. If the husband treated her like a child for five years, and shall at length come to his senses and decide to act toward her like she was an intelligent woman, he will not expect that she will display the judgment the sensible man's wife across the street does, for she has had just five years' experience in the use of her powers that his short-sightedness has deprived his wife of.

Where the income of the family is sufficient to allow all the comforts and many of the luxuries of modern living, there arise difficulties that are harder to adjust. For here love of dress and desire for home adornment is given some scope, and we know what tyrants they become if left unchecked by reason and a firm will. But the best plan in this case is for husband and wife to agree on a plan of living that shall bring all the expenses of the year as far within the limits of their income as their courage will permit. Then from previous experience, if they have lived with their eyes open, they can proportion the various expenses of "house," "dress," "charity," "incidentals," and so on, as far as they may see fit to particularize, and this done each one will have an intelligent idea of what he is striving for. The woman as well as the man in this case becomes an interested party in the family finances. And the man that has never given his wife a chance to show what she can do with money will, in nine cases out of ten, be thoroughly surprised at the economy she will practice and enjoy, because she knows what she is doing.

The man in business has not quite the same opportunity to follow this plan that the man on a salary has; but he must count on living when he embarks in an enterprise, and if there is need that the style be plain, let it be so, but have some kind of an understanding in the beginning how plain, that the wife who could and would gladly help him, may not make the mistake that so many of her worthy sisters have made before her, of supposing that because her husband was in business and his income indefinite, that it was consequently unlimited and able to affect all sorts of unreasonable extravagances.

If anything like the above plans should be followed in the adjustment of family affairs, it would do more toward rendering wives and children self-respecting and truly affectionate toward husband and father, and consequently making their homes happy, than any other one change that could be wrought in them.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Drops of Water.

MR. JOSEPH G. BICKNELL, No. 842 Main Street, Cambridgeport, Mass., writes, April 27, 1883: "I have been terribly afflicted for a number of years with gravel and kidney disease. My urine contained brick-dust deposits, and at times I could not pass my water except in drops and with great pain; and have had to get up as many as fifteen times during the night. I tried several physicians; they did me no good, but a friend of mine, who had used Hunt's Remedy, told me to get a bottle and try it. He had been cured of a severe case similar to mine, and that others had used Hunt's Remedy in Cambridge and pronounced it a medecine of real merit. After being repeatedly urged I purchased a bottle, and before I had used all of it I passed a stone as large as a pea, followed by smaller ones. I have used in all ten bottles, and it has completely cured me. My kidneys are in excellent condition, and for one of my age (69) sixty-eight years, I can truly say I feel like a young man with strength and vitality. My family use the Remedy, and would not be without it, and never fail to recommend it to our friends and neighbors in Cambridge and Boston. You are at liberty to use my name in praise of the best kidney and liver medecine, Hunt's Remedy."

"Did Wonders for Me."

The above words from MR. LEWIS KERN, No. 9 Highland Avenue, Malden, Mass, April 28, 1883, He says: "I have been troubled for years with kidney and liver complaint, followed by gravel, with severe pains in my back and groins. I had great trouble in passing water, it being scanty, and accompanied by terrible burning, the vessel being coated with brick-dust deposit. I was recommended to use Hunt's Remedy by a friend who had been completely cured of a similar trouble. I purchased a bottle at the druggists, and commenced to improve at once. I have used but two bottles, and it has done wonders for me—no more kidney trouble, no more pain. It has given me new life, and I would not be without Hunt's Remedy at any price. It is all that it is recommended to be, and I cheerfully give this testimony for the benefit of the many sufferers from kidney disease and gravel."

WHO SHOULD USE

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER!

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, all who want MUSTACHES or WHISKERS, 80 per cent. of those using BENTON'S HAIR GROWER, have grown Hair. It fails sometimes when the follicles have been killed by poisonous preparations, or skin diseases, but those cases are so few that everyone should try it. If it fails to stop the hair falling it is from a parasite or Alopecia; in such cases send us a few hairs and we will send a prescription free.

Double and Triple STRENGTH.

When the Skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such case the double or the triple strength should be used in connection with the single strength, using them on alternate days.

NO HAIR! NO PAY!

We will send, charges prepaid, to any address, on receipt of five dollars, four bottles of single strength and one bottle of double strength. If used according to directions, and the person is not over fifty years of age, we bind ourselves to refund the money if no new growth of hair is produced when the five bottles have been used on one person.

No contracts taken unless actual baldness exists.

Ask your Druggist or Barber to get it for you, or the money can be sent to us direct and the Grower will be sent prepaid. Price, $1.00 per Bottle, Double Strength, $2.00; Triple Strength, $3.00.

By virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit court, of Rock county, in said state, against the real estate hereinafter described, I have seized all the right, title and interest which Eugene Harris had on the 26th day of February, A. D. 1883, or at any time thereafter, of in and to the following described premises, which I shall offer for sale and sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, as the law directs, at the front door of the postoffice in the city of Janesville, in said Rock county, on Tuesday, the 10th day of July, A. D. 1883, at two o'clock in the afternoon, to wit: The northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section number (17) in the town of Porter, in said Rock county, Wisconsin.

—Dated May 28th, 1883.

R. B. HARPER,
Sheriff of Rock county, Wis.

DR. JAMES, No. 204 Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

His Soul and His Silver.

"You're asking me how I came to use it, reminds me of the story of the Scotchman who, on his deathbed, after a life of meanness, wanted to make things all right with the Lord by leaving some money to Kirk."

"Will the Almighty pass me into heaven if I give 10,000 pounds to the kirk, d'ye think, said he?"

"I can't promise ye that, mon," answered the minister, "but I advise ye to try the experiment."

"That's what I did with PARKER'S TONIC: I tried the experiment. It more than met my expectations, and I am very glad to testify to its excellence. It goes at once to the root of all digestive and nervous derangements so common among men of my profession. For women and chronic invalids the Tonic is a perfect invigorant and is designed to supplant all other remedies for this purpose. A single dose produces the gentle perspiration and sense of life which indicates disease. It seems to rouse every organ to activity. I admire it, too, for its powegan in recognize the hold of the liquor habit er to antag over inebriates. It has been known as PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, will hereafter be called PARKER'S TONIC. As unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving their customers with inferior articles under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant flavoring ingredient, we drop the misleading word.

There will be no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles in the hands of dealers wrapped under the name of PARKER'S GINGER TONIC contain the genuine medicine if the fac-simile signature of HISCOX & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.

A Baptist Minister's Experience.

"I am a Baptist minister, and before I ever thought of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Thomas' Electric Oil cured me. I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Electric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and Thomas' Electric Oil cured them, and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with the Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can, until the oil falls over into the throat, and practice it twice a week, I dont care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their catarrh. For deafness and earache, it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Electric Oil." Dr. E. F. Crane, Corry, Pa.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Pick Your Hardware
FOR SPRING AND SUMMER USE.

We will not attempt to enumerate what we have, nor to describe our stock further than to say that it consists of the best obtainable, in every department. We keep everything that is usually found in a first-class Hardware and Stove Store, and a few things besides, and have taken especial pains this spring to have everything up to the standard. In articles of different makes, such as

Stoves, Ranges,
Household Implements and labor saving devices.
Axes, Tools,
Farm Machinery,
Etc., Etc.

We have either arranged to give the purchaser his choice of all the varieties, or we have selected after careful comparison, what we consider to be the best. Everything in our stock has been chosen with particular reference to the want of this community and the surrounding country, and we want every purchaser to feel assured that in buying of us he is getting the greatest obtainable value for his money. Speaking of money brings us to the question of prices, and right here we must be pardoned if we do a little bragging. We do not claim to be smarter than the generality of men in a horse trade or sharper in a dog dicker, but when it comes to buying a stock of Hardware stores we know just what we are about. We have been enabled by our experience and certain advantages we possess—not the least of which is buying for SPOT CASH, to lay in our new spring stock of seasonable goods at figures which would astonish our competitors if they knew them, and will allow us to offer our patrons a benefit in the way of ROCK BOTTOM PRICES for TIP TOP GOODS, that we are sure will be appreciated.

KIMBALL & LOWELL.
Corn Exchange Square, Janesville, Wis.

Brieflets.

—The municipal court was dull again to-day.

—Read the church directory, and then attend one of the churches to-morrow.

—Mr. H. S. Woodruff has just completed digging a well at his new pickle factory. He obtained a good supply of water at twenty-four feet from the surface.

—There has been a marvelous sale of ladies' hemstitched handkerchief in town to-day, and Mr. M. C. Smith, whose stock was exceedingly large and fine, sold upwards of a thousand.

—Michigan strawberries were retailing in this market this morning at thirty cents per quart. The berries are large and of good flavor, but a little too expensive for our use.

—The linen handkerchief trade in Janesville is lively just now, owing to the close competition among the dealers. The little wipes are selling all the way from four pennies up to the denomination of a national bank note.

—The funeral of the late Michael Litzkow, whose death was noticed in last evening's Gazette, will take place tomorrow morning, at the house, at 10 o'clock, and at the German church at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. John Schlerf, officiating.

—A party of some thirty-five or forty little boys and girls gave little Genevro Skavlen a surprise party last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Skavlen, on North Main street. They had an enjoyable time, and it was near eleven o'clock in the evening before they were tired of their amusements.

—The Beloit fire department have accepted an invitation to attend a fireman's tournament in Lyons, Iowa, on the Fourth of July, and have picked a hose company from their department to enter the races. The team is in charge of Captain Robert Moses, who will show the Hawkeyes how fast Badgers can move.

—Twenty-five or thirty couples visited and participated in the dance at La Prairie grange hall last evening, from this city. There was a large attendance, and all enjoyed the dance. Smith & Slocum's orchestra furnished some excellent music, while Evenson & Parker, of the Main street restaurant, provided a first class supper.

—Professor Johnson, the mesmerist, will give an exhibition at Myers opera house next Monday and Tuesday evenings. His entertainments are made up of fun, laughter, and science. He is a wonder in his line. He baffles the doctors, makes more laughter than any comedian, startles the scientists, and creates much excitement among the people. His performances are more mystified and more marvelous than any that Bishop ever gave.

—Messrs. Winans & Fethers yesterday received one of the Mosler safe and lock company's safes for use in their law office. The safe weighs three thousand six hundred pounds, and required the services of several able-bodied men, and numerous ropes and tackles to take it up stairs into the law office. This morning several young men were puzzled in trying to open the safe, with the key to the combination lock before them. The safe is a handsome one, and if the combination lock continues to puzzle those who try to open it, it will be safe.

—Captain E. J. Bending, First Lieutenant W. T. Bois, Second Lieutenant C. A. Smith, of the Beloit City Guards, have received their commissions from Governor Rusk. There was a struggle on the part of the members of the Beloit company to get their commander commissioned ahead of the Janesville City Guards, and they were successful in their efforts by two days' time. Captain Bending therefore ranks as senior captain over Captain Glass, of the Janesville Guards, and the Beloit company outranks the Janesville Guards.—Beloit Free Press.

—Some of the residents in the neighborhood of Bunker Hill are complaining of the parties who congregate there for the purpose of shooting clay pigeons. We will remind them that the common council granted parties that privilege sometime ago, and again we will remind the timid ones that there is no danger yet awhile from this shooting. In proof of this we have a score sheet in our desk, which is proof positive that it will require a good amount of practice before some of them will be able to make their shots tell. Don't be afraid.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 70 degrees above zero. Cloudy with a southwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 84 degrees above zero. Cloudy with a west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 70 and 74 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, June, 16, 1 a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day:

Tennessee, Ohio Valley, and Lake Region—Slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather, light local rains, variable winds generally from south to west, falling barometer, followed in the west portion of the upper lake region by rising barometer.

Serious Accident.

Mr. W. B. Stoddard met with a serious accident this forenoon, by which he broke his left collar-bone. He was driving one of his wagons, when one of the wheels ran off the axle, the horse became frightened, and in the excitement Mr. Stoddard was thrown to the ground, the vehicle passing over him, breaking his left collar-bone, and otherwise bruising his body. He was cared for by Dr. Palmer, and is doing well. The accident occurred at about half-past eleven o'clock. Mr. Stoddard says that the wheels passed over him four or five times before he let go of the lines.

Personal.

—Mrs. N. Cole has gone to Iowa where she will visit four or five weeks.

—Hon. Clinton Babbitt, secretary of the state agricultural society, was in the city to-day.

—Mr. H. Helborn, of New York, brother of Mrs. Fred Sonneborn, is in the city to-day, and will spend the Sabbath here.

—Paymaster Henry T. Wright, of the United States navy, who has been assigned to the Nipsic, sailed from New York on Thursday for Rio, South America, direct.

—Fish Commissioner Charles L. Valentine, and Messrs. Hiram Bump and Will Watson have gone to the trout streams seventy-five miles north of Green Bay, where they will spend a few days catching the speckled beauties. Good luck attend them.

—Miss Ada R. Bintliff, niece of General Bintliff, who lived in this city a number of years, will be married to-morrow at Huron, Dakota, to Mr. Charles B. Felt, of that city. We know of a good many who will wish Ada many years of great happiness and much prosperity.

—Mr. Nye, who has had charge of the Western Union telegraph office in this city since last fall, has resigned, and Mr. Maynard W. Hamblin, of Galesburg, Illinois, has taken his place. Mr. Hamblin is a skilled operator, having had seven years of thorough experience in the offices in Chicago.

—Dr. S. S. Judd left for Topeka, Kansas, this forenoon, to attend a meeting of the national eclectic medical association. He will then, with other members of the association, accept the invitation of the Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, for an excursion through New Mexico and the Indian Territory, returning home in two weeks. The report put afloat that he was going on a "pleasure trip of four weeks" to Mexico, is "unreliable and made without authority." The doctor says he has not that much time to spare away from home and his professional duties.

A Musical Festival.

There was a large audience at the Congregational church last evening, to enjoy the concert given for the benefit of the organ fund. The programme was an excellent one, and the best and most popular musical talent in the city contributed to the pleasure of the evening. The first number was finely given by the orchestra from the institute for the blind; and then followed a solo by Mrs. H. A. Smith, who, on being recalled, sang "Pretty Primrose." The male quartet by Messrs. Colling, Underhill, Clark and Bladen, was a good piece of work, and was loudly applauded, but the quartet failed to respond to an encore which was heartily given. Prof. Arnold, who never fails to please an audience, was also recalled. The quartet by Mrs. H. A. Smith, Mrs. C. E. Moseley, and Messrs. Underhill and Bladen, was another excellent number which naturally won a recall. The piano duet by Mrs. Bintliff and Mrs. H. A. Doty was so well rendered as to draw out a well-merited encore. Mrs. St. John was in excellent voice last night and gave as her number "Frolicsome." She sang it in excellent taste as she does all her music, and responded to an enthusiastic recall by singing "'Tis but a little faded flower." The final piece on the programme was sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Smith, Mrs. St John, Mrs. Conrad and Mrs. Moseley. It was well rendered as all selections heretofore given by that popular quartet, have been. Our Congregational friends are certainly under many obligations to Mrs. H. A. Smith for the interest she has taken and the success she has won in this entertainment. After the musical programme, there were refreshments served in chapel parlors, and two or three hundred joined in the feast.

County Teacher's Library Association.

A special meeting of the Rock county teacher's library association was held in the rooms of the association in the court house this afternoon. The attendance was not very large, as there was no business of special importance to be transacted. President Jones, of Clinton presided.

The meeting was wholly informal and the time was occupied in looking over the reports of the officers, and making suggestions for the future.

The election of officers will take place in September.

Nearer to Nature.

Nature has made her laws with us, which we must obey or suffer the penalty. This penalty is often lung or throat trouble, which leads on to consumption. Every man believes consumption incurable. People have been educated to this belief, which is proven incorrect by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure which is nature's great helpmate, and it cures consumption and all throat and lung diseases speedily and permanently. Trial bottles free, of Stearns & Baker.

Coal for the Schools.

The school commissioners held a special meeting on Thursday evening, for the purpose of considering the bids for furnishing the city schools with coal for the ensuing year. Bids were solicited for furnishing one hundred and fifty-five tons of egg, and twenty tons of soft coal. There were five bids received as follows:

W. H. H. MACLOON.

Egg	$7.20 per ton.
Soft	4.[illegible] " "

LAWRENCE & ATWOOD.

Egg	7.77 " "
Soft	5.[illegible] " "

BUGG BRO'S.

Egg	7.65 " "

The Milwaukee Races.

The races in Milwaukee were well attended yesterday, and there was considerable excitement, owing to the fact that Monroe Chief, who was the favorite in the pools, being left in the race. We take the following summaries of the race from to-day's Sentinel:

SUMMARY.

COLD SPRING DRIVING PARK, June 15—Purse $300; 2:19 class, $150 to first, $90 to second, $60 to third:

C. F. Bradley, Milwaukee, b. m. Adelaide	1	1	1
David Rhoda, Oconomowoc, b. g. Billy B	2	2	2
H. H. Yates, Chicago, ch. m. Rec	3	4	4
J. W. Ford, Chicago, ch. g. Blue Bull Pilot	4	3	3

TIME—2:27¼; 2:22; 2:20.

THE FREE-FOR-ALL.

First heat—Pools: Monroe Chief, $50; field $20. Catchfly had the pole, Foxie V. second, Monroe Chief third, Eureka fourth. The send-off was bad for Eureka, he being two lengths to the rear on the jump. Catchfly drew away rapidly to the front, Foxie V. second, the Chief third. To the three-quarter post there was no change, the three trotting hard and steady. Eureka was out of the race altogether, he being a full furlong behind and acting badly. Turning into the flat, Monroe Chief pushed up by Foxie and began a fight with Catchfly for the front. The race between the two horses was a hot one. Both were moving very fast, trotting neck and neck, when the Chief went into the air, letting the mare in a winner in a short length in 2:20½, Monroe Chief second, Foxie V. third, Eureka shut out.

Second heat—No pools sold. The start was very even, Catchfly having a little the best of it. The big mare took the track from the Chief at once, Foxie getting into third place. The race to the close was between Catchfly and the Chief, he travelling close until the last turn, when he came up neck and neck with the mare. Down to the wire both horses could have been covered with one blanket, the finish being as exciting as ever witnessed, Catchfly winning by a nose, the Chief second, Foxie V. distanced. Time, 2:19¾.

Third heat—The word was given after scoring half-a-dozen times, with Catchfly and the Chief trotting like a team. The mare left the stallion before getting to the Club House, and trotted away under a pull. Monroe Chief closed the hole a little on the last quarter, but Catchfly won in a jog in 2:27.

SUMMARY.

Same day and track—Purse $[illegible], free-for-all; $250 to first, $150 to second, $100 to third:

George B. Hayes, Frankford, b. m. Catchfly	1	1	1
Bud Doble, Chicago, br. s. Monroe Chief	2	2
D. Johnson, Jefferson, ch. m. Foxie V.	3	dis

Good Roads.

The following item on the subject of road building will be of interest to all. The charge is only too true, and our county pathmasters should, in a measure remedy the evil, and take a new departure in the way of road building. The Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter says:—"The season of road making is upon us, and the Ft. Atkinson Union desires to lodge a protest with every pathmaster within the sound of its voice against the detestable habit they have practiced so long of piling soft dirt on the track and calling it a road. Year after year goes by and hardly a road in the county shows a rod of good, durable gravel or stone track built. Surely, we will have to stop this miserable practice sometime. We are not going to remain barbarians always so far as our roads are concerned. Why not commence the work of improvement this year? Why not build a few rods, at least, of good, durable roads? The slouchy work we are doing every year, and our lack of enterprise in the making of decent roads is a shame to every neighborhood in the county. Roads are a standing measure of the intelligence and thrift of the community, and where does that measure leave us? The Union hopes that every one of its farmer readers will get behind their pathmaster and push him into the work of building a certain number of rods of good road each year, and furthermore, that he commence this year."

State Board of Supervision.

The state board of supervision, now in session at the capitol, opened the bids at noon yesterday for supplying the various charitable and penal institutions of the state with coal, and after deliberating upon them until 6 o'clock in the evening made awards as follows: James Conklin & Co., Madison, 2,500 tons of Indiana block, at $4.85, to be delivered in the coal house at Mendota hospital. The Ohio Central railroad and coal company, 2,500 tons of Hocking coal, delivered on the track at Winnebago asylum for the insane, for $4.85. R. P. Elmore & Co., of Milwaukee, 80 tons of large egg, at $6.20, and 20 tons of chestnut, at $6.52, and Kendrick & Son, of Waukesha, 500 tons of Indiana block, at $3.45, at the Industrial school for boys at Waukesha. C. F. Cooley, of Madison, 80 tons of Indiana block, at $6.90, at the institute for the deaf and dumb, at Delavan. A. H. Glaspell & Co., Chicago, 85 tons of large egg, and 18 tons of chestnut, at $7.45, to be delivered in the coal house at the Institution for the blind at Janesville. The board feels that it made its contracts very advantageously.

The board re-elected the officers of the several institutions, with the exception of Mrs. M. C. Halliday, matron of the state hospital, who declined re-election, as she desired to retire to private life.—Madison Journal.

Instructive Reading.

Some of the testimonials from different people relative to Thomas' Electric Oil, and the relief it has given them when distressed by headache, earache, and toothache are as interesting as you will find. This being a standard medicine, is sold everywhere by druggists.

Dunwiddie—Gray.

Somewhat surprised were many of our citizens at the announcement of the marriage of Mr. B. F. Dunwiddie, of Janesville, and Miss Nellie Gray, daughter of Warren Gray, Esq., of this city, Rev. J. Staley officiating.

The happy event took place at the residence of the bride's parents, at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, June 13th, 1893, and was a very private affair, only the relatives and most intimate friends witnessing the ceremony.

After the ceremony and congratulations, a most elaborate bridal feast was spread, of which all partook with satisfaction.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gros grain bronze green silk, the groom in regulation attire.

The bridal party departed on the 1:20 p. m train for Janesville, from which point they will visit St. Paul and Minneapolis, and take a tour round the lakes.

Miss Nellie Gray, the eldest daughter of Warren Gray, Esq., is a native of Darlington, a graduate of our common school and also of the State University, class of 1890, and for sometime past has been a teacher in our public schools, which position she resigned to accept this life partnership. A most accomplished young lady, a bright ornament of society, what is our loss will be Janesville's gain.

Mr. B. F. Dunwiddie is a native of Green county; is a graduate of the state university and law school. For several years past he has been a partner in the law firm of Norcross & Dunwiddie, of Janesville. A young man of exemplary character, he is marking out for himself a future which will be bright with deeds accomplished. As a helpmate in life's journey he has made a most excellent selection. May their future be bright with joy and success, is the earnest wish of their many friends.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents—Darlington Republican.

Dr. Tanner's Stomach.

Dr. Tanner certainly has a great stomach—great because of its strength and endurance. We may err in saying that the doctor uses Burdock Blood Bitters, but if he does, his digestive powers are easily accounted for. Burdock Blood Bitters being a standard medicine are sold by all druggists.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of disease. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputation of a patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. * * * Many of those medicines came out of the regular practice, and were prepared and originally prescribed by the best physicians. * * * Very few of them, we believe are humbugs and frauds in the conscientiousness or the intent of their makers. * * * The people, who are necessarily the judges, both of doctors and of medicines, say that these medicines are not all frauds, and if human testimony is good for anything, that fact is established. —Scribner's Monthly.

LIVER

A FACT—Facts are established by testimony. The weight of the testimony is dependent upon the character of the witness. The following unimpeachable testimony pronounce Dow's Liver Cure a medicine of merit.

We, the undersigned, have used Dow's Liver Cure ourselves and in our families, for many of the diseases for which it is recommended, and we pronounce it the most reliable and efficient medicine yet introduced in this country, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers.
